

Manage and govern consent across your enterprise

HealthVerity Consent, seamlessly integrates with pre-existing enterprise systems to consolidate consumer permissions and act as the single source of truth for customer intent and privacy compliance.

- ✓ Consolidate and reconcile individual consumer data preferences in a centralized location.
- ✓ Rapidly deploy technology without interrupting existing systems and operations.
- ✓ Generate shareable, immutable log of consent preferences and consumer data requests.

Easily comply with changing privacy law

- Immutable blockchain ledger technology makes it easy to comply with changing privacy laws such as CCPA, GDPR, HIPAA, CAN-SPAM, TCPA.

Share consumer consent with trusted partners

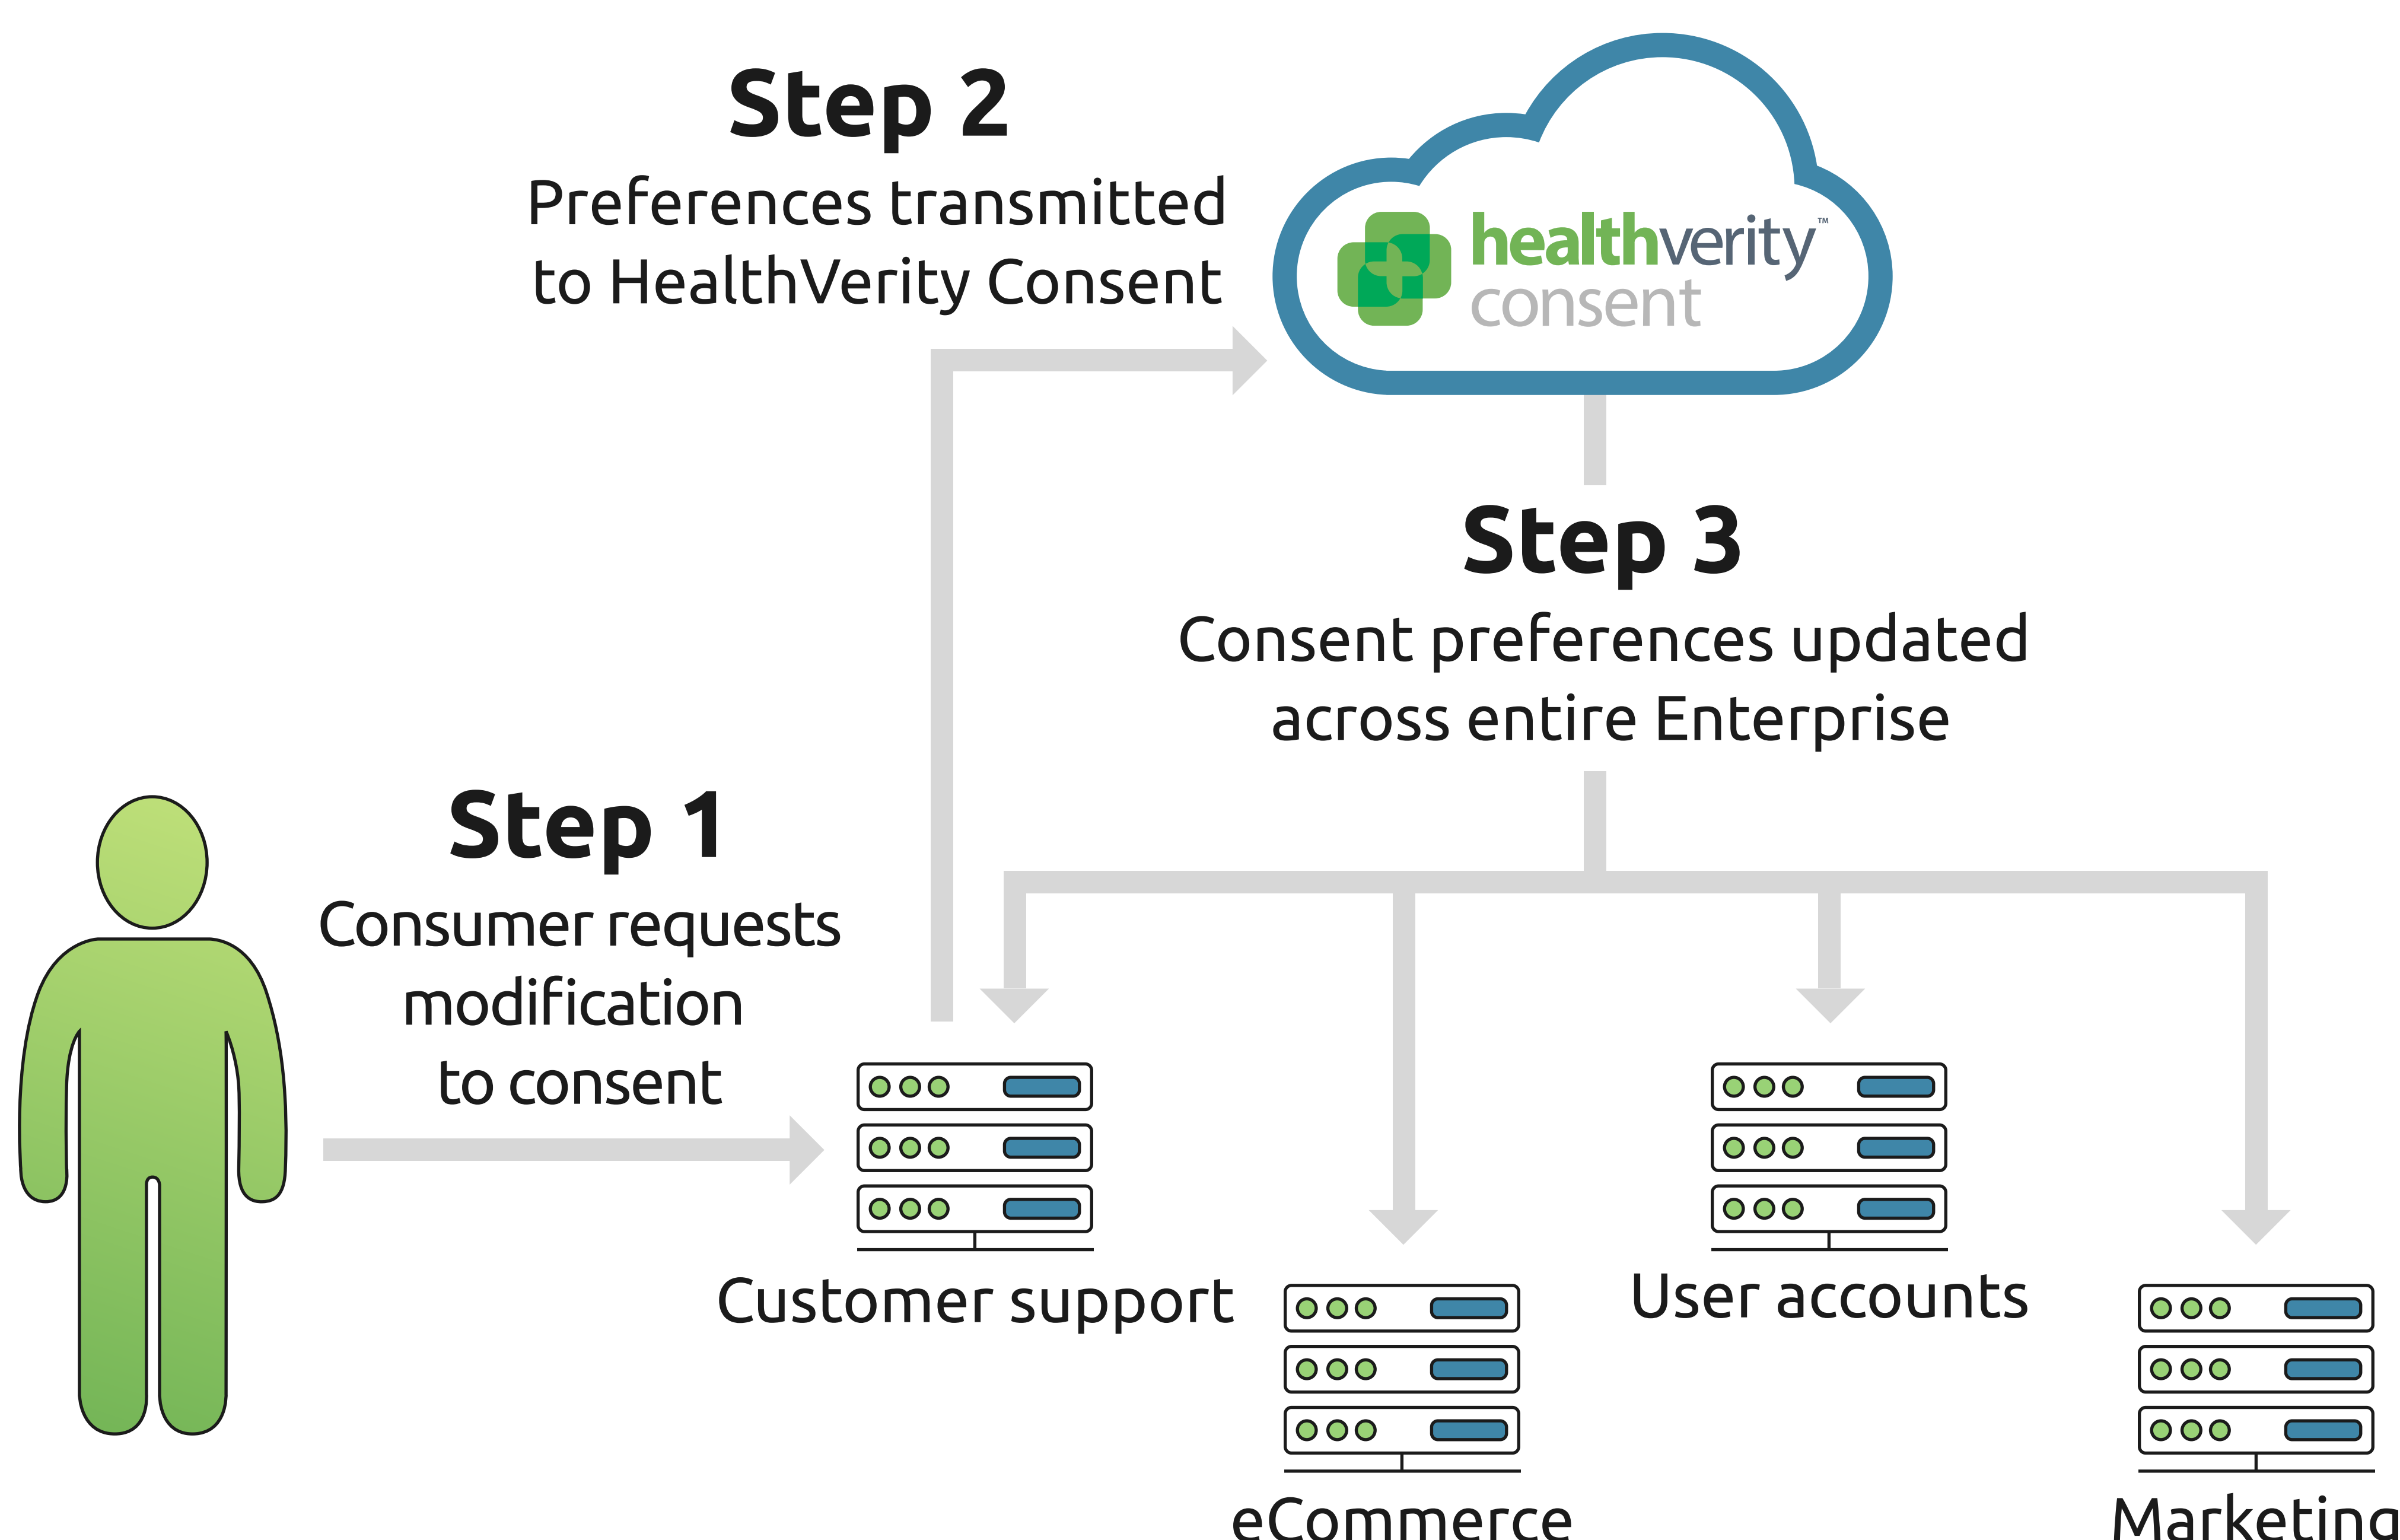

- Inform all consumer data systems, both inside the enterprise and across partner networks, of change in consent status, keeping all parties in compliance with the most up-to-date information.

Install seamlessly with connection to current systems

- A simple architecture is put in place to connect disparate systems without disrupting current application operations.

About HealthVerity
